SAW MRS. PATTERSON SHOOT HER HUSBAND.

Witness Testifies That Dead Man Had Knocked Her Down.

Denver, Col., Nov. 27.—The defense in the Patterson murder case placed on the stand today a witness to the shooting of Charles A. Patterson by his wife, Gertrude Gibson Patterson. He is Francis J. Easton of Minneapolis.

Easton was in Denver the day of the shooting, he testified. He corroborated Mrs. Patterson's assertion that she shot her husband after he had struck her twice and knocked her down and was standing over her with his arm raised to strike again.

Easton said that he went to the sanitarium at which Patterson was a patient and started for a walk in the neighborhood. Some distance from the sanitarium he observed a man and woman engaged in a quarrel. When he was 300 feet from the pair he looked back and saw the woman reading a newspaper clipping. She handed the clipping to the man and he struck her in the face. A second blow felled her.

She struggled to one knee, he said, and fired twice. After a short pause she fired two more shots, he said. On cross examination Easton said he saw A. B. Shugart, the other witness of the shooting, placed on the stand by the state, running to the spot, but did not go over to the body himself, because he did not want to get mixed in the affair.

Prosecutor Benson questioned the witness closely in regard to his life history, but failed to shake the witness' composure.

"Have you been back to the scene of the shooting for the purpose of testifying here?"

"I have."

"On the fact that Easton made no effort to go to Patterson after the shooting, and had made no report of what he had seen, the prosecutor dwelt with emphasis."

"You did not go back to see whether the man was dead or alive?" he asked.

"I did not."

"You sauntered away from the scene?"

"You had seen a man assault a woman, and the woman shoot him down, and you did not tell?"

"No, sir."

Easton was the last witness for the defense and the state began its testimony in the case of Mrs. Mary K. Patterson, mother-in-law of the defendant. The purpose of testimony was to impeach the defendant's testimony on a number of points.

When court adjourned today there was a prospect of the case going to the jury by tomorrow night.

At Rate of 74 Miles an Hour

RALPH K. MULFORD WINS VANDERBILT CUP RACE.

TOOK LEAD FROM DE PALMA

Latter Led Procession for Four Laps and Made Plucky Fight to Regain that Position—Records Broken.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 27.—When a white streak flashed by the judges stand late today at the finish of the seventh Vanderbilt cup race the American automobile world hailed Ralph K. Mulford, driver of a Lozier car, as a new champion.

Not only had Mulford lowered all previous Vanderbilt records, but he had broken the record of Harry Hertz at San Monica, Cal., in covering 202 miles at an average of 74.35 miles an hour. At that he was pushed to win the nerve wracking 292 mile contest by Ralph De Palma, the brilliant driver of a French Mercedes.

De Palma finished just a little more than two minutes behind the winner and eight minutes in advance of the other Mercedes entrant, Spencer Wishart.

Lowered All Previous Records.

Only six of the fourteen cars which started finished. Bob Burman and Harry Hertz, winners of the 1910 and 1911 year's grand prize races, were among those forced to drop out owing to trouble with their machines. The race was run without the usual loss of time. Numerous accidents which befell contestants to the detriment of their chances of possessing the trophy were avoided.

No Serious Accidents.

Only six of the fourteen cars which started finished. Bob Burman and Harry Hertz, winners of the 1910 and 1911 year's grand prize races, were among those forced to drop out owing to trouble with their machines. The race was run without the usual loss of time. Numerous accidents which befell contestants to the detriment of their chances of possessing the trophy were avoided.

Loose Stone Puts Burman Out.

Bob Burman was the victim of hard luck. He had just driven his Marmon around the seventh lap in record time, one minute and a half behind Mulford, when a loose stone struck the gasoline tank connection and broke it. Burman abandoned the race. Jesse Cyrus Patchke, driver of the other Marmon entry, was likewise running a good race when an air pump gave way on the ninth lap and forced him out of the contest. Joe Watson took a bad back to camp when a leaky radiator threatened the destruction of his engine by fire.

Mulford Had Good Luck With Tires.

Mulford said tonight that he owed his victory largely to good luck with tires. He had but one change. De Palma was less fortunate. He was compelled to stop four times for new tires and at the finish he was running on the rim of one of them. De Palma took the lead at the beginning of the race and held it for four laps. Then Mulford passed him and was never headed. The former's tire troubles began immediately after he had made two record rounds on the second and third laps, which he made in 13.14 and 13.16 respectively. He was leading Mulford by 43 seconds at the end of the fourth lap. On the next round Mulford was one minute and 40 seconds ahead of him. He gradually cleared away while De Palma was worrying with his tires until he was almost six minutes ahead in the eighth.

De Palma's Wonderful Sports.

De Palma sprang desperately to regain the lost ground and some of his turns near the grandstand excited the admiration and wonder of the crowd. At the beginning of the 10th and 11th laps Mulford had a half two minutes ahead and the spectators applauded and cheered him as he dashed by for the finish. De Palma's beautiful feat, however, was marred by the curve at the rate of 75 miles and literally flew down the straightaway in vain pursuit.

De Palma Game to End.

"No. 8, Mulford in the stretch," cried the announcer, and the crowd's eyes were turned to the victor. He was not half a mile away where the victor shot into sight. A roar rent the air as the graceful white flyer flashed into the stretch, and the din continued until Mulford finished the victor. Though defeated, De Palma was game to the end, and he also was wildly cheered as he finished two minutes and 11 seconds behind the winner.

New Cardinals Are Confirmed

SACRED COLLEGE RATIFIES EIGHTEEN NOMINATIONS.

VERY SIMPLE CEREMONIAL

Red Hats to Be Bestowed on Thursday with More Stately Ceremonies—American Prelates Congratulated.

Rome, Nov. 27.—In the hall of consistorial at the Vatican today the formal ratification of the pope's nomination of eighteen new members of the sacred college was carried out with simple ceremonial. The striking feature of the consistory, which was attended only by the pope and the cardinals resident in Rome, as well as the visiting cardinals, was the elevation of three American prelates: Mgr. Enley, archbishop of New York; Mgr. O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, and Mgr. Falconi, the apostolic delegate at Washington, who now retires from that office.

A Stately Ceremony Thursday.

The actual bestowal of the red hat has been reserved for Thursday, when the public consistory will be held in the hall of beatification, and a much more stately ceremony, which on that occasion, the pontiff himself seemed to feel the great importance of the event today with respect to the relation of America to the church. In private conversation he said that the flourishing condition of Catholicism in America would remain in history one of the chief characteristics of his pontificate.

America on Level with Catholic Countries.

It was a decree by Pius X. which removed America from the jurisdiction of propaganda, thus lifting it out of the class of missionary lands, and the granting of three cardinals to the republic is evidence that that country has now been raised in the eyes of the holy see to the same level as the European nations. Among the number a traditional attachment to the church.

Congratulations of 600 Visitors.

Cardinals Falconi, Enley and O'Connell repaired after the ceremony to the American college, where more than 600 visitors came to offer their congratulations. Among the number were seventeen cardinals, including Cardinals Rampolla, Van Nottell, Martini and Luigi. The three cardinals lunched at the college, where they were enthusiastically greeted by the students.

Another Cardinal "in Pectore."

The announcement is made that the pope has created another cardinal "in pectore," the identity of the prelate thus honored is, of course, secret, but those best informed think that the new cardinal will be the patriarch of Lisbon, Mgr. A. Mendes Belle. The announcement of the name has been reserved, it is believed, owing to the strained relations between Portugal and the church.

New York, Nov. 27.—The supreme court granted a decree of separation and $15,000 a year alimony to Mrs. Lily Middleton, wife of John A. Middleton, vice president of the Lehigh Valley railroad and numerous other railroad companies. In issuing the decree Justice Cushman said the evidence showed that in January, 1911, Middleton sent his wife outside the state and since then had refused to live with her or maintain a home for her.

Mrs. Middleton alleged that in December, 1910, her husband had confined her in a Connecticut insane asylum without cause and that he was brutal and abusive to her. Mrs. Middleton is given the custody of the children, except that when the only boy, John A. Middleton, Jr., reaches the age of 14 his wife may have the custody of him.
